

How to use the question converter

1. Open the “QuestionBank” folder existing in the root folder of the program.
2. Create a .txt file with a name of your choice in the QuestionBank Folder. The Quiz program is designed for 20 questions, not less, not more.
3. Enter your questions in the same format as shown in the “example questions.txt” file.
4. Open the “QuestionConverter” file, you will be asked to input the name of your .txt file. Enter the name of your file in the textfield and press the “OK” button. The application will generate a XML file with the name “MyQuestions.xml”.
This file should now be uploaded when starting a specific instance in the main application. Please note that if you want to generate more XML files, the existing MyQuestions.xml files will be overwritten if it exists in the same folder as the question converter program.
